FIVB VOLLEYBALL WOMEN'S WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP JAPAN 2010

FIVB VOLLEYBALL WOMEN'S WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP JAPAN 2010

MIKASA

The FIVB Women's World Championship is considered one of the top events on the global sporting calendar and I can proudly say that, thanks to the high quality of the action both on the court and off it, the 2010 edition was clearly the best yet.

Japan put on a stunning show and every single venue and city kindly welcomed teams, fans and the FIVB throughout the three weeks.

The drama on court was explosive. As usual many teams came to the competition believing they could win and that made for a competitive few weeks of volleyball. Even in the first week, the teams that were eventually eliminated early on played with as much passion, belief and determination as the victorious Russian side.

I was so proud to see full crowds at almost every match I went to and it yet again underlines Japan as one of the hotspots for the sport. To see fans appreciate what the players are doing on the court is such a positive advertisement for volleyball, and to see players return the favour by spending time with fans is a credit to them all.

My thanks go to the Japan Volleyball Association who were central to making sure the tournament was held without any major issues as well as the fans and the players. Finally, congratulations to Russia who proved that despite not starting as favourites, the European country is still a powerhouse in the volleyball world.

Mr. Jizhong Wei

Message of JVA President

I am very pleased and honored to say that the FIVB Women's Volleyball World Championship Japan 2010 has ended successfully. Thanks to the local organizers of Tokyo, Hamamatsu, Matsumoto, Osaka and Nagoya for their great efforts at staging this magnificent event here in Japan again. After an interval of four years, the Women's World Championship has successfully returned to Japan and fascinated the Volleyball fans not only in Japan but also around the world.

Needless to say, the FIVB World Championship is one of the most highly anticipated and spectacular events held in between the Olympic Games, and 24 participating teams strive for winning the honor of becoming the real World Champions.

My congratulations go to the Russian team for having realized their goal of winning this highly prestigious competition, and also to the Japanese team for winning a bronze medal after an interval of 32 years when they won a silver medal in the 8th edition in 1978. It was a long-awaited moment of joy for all the Japanese fans to witness this historic moment, and the result gave the Japanese team the strength to keep going.

My great thanks also go to the co-organizer and host TV broadcaster of the event, TBS Television. Their TV ratings show that the Women's World Championship provided the great excitement of the sport also to the TV viewers. I am sure the international television broadcasters were as successful as them.

Last but not least, I would like to thank the FIVB for their valuable advice, without it, we were not being able to organize the event.

I look forward to seeing you all again in the future edition of the World Championship.

Mr. Masao Tachiki

The 2010 FIVB Women's World Championship turned out to be a triumph for Russia, who returned to Tokyo to successfully defend the title they won in the Japanese capital four years ago. But Russia was not the only success story on the courts in Japan; many women's national teams enhanced their reputations there, most notably the hosts themselves as well as Turkey, and Algeria who were competing for the first time.

However, led by 35 points from the tournament's Most Valuable Player, Ekaterina Gamova, it was Russia who won their seventh world title by beating Olympic champions and world No. 1 Brazil in a marathon five-set final in front of a full house of 12,000 fans at the Yoyogi National Stadium. The match was a repeat of the 2006 final, also won by Russia in five sets.

Earlier on finals day, Japan upset second-ranked USA in another thrilling five-setter to win the bronze medal. Their wing spiker Saori Kimura was one of the young stars of the tournament. Turkey lost to Italy in the 5-8 final, but their best-ever World Championship finish was assured while Neslihan Darnel's 251 points gave her the Best Scorer award for the second time running.

Highest individual points scored in a match
35 points by Manon Flier in the Netherlands' 3-2 loss to Italy in Hamamatsu on Day 2 and Ekaterina Gamova in Russia's 3-2 win over Brazil in the final in Tokyo

Highest Set Score
35-33 (BRA v JPN in 1-4 semifinals) played on November 13 in Tokyo creating a new FIVB Women's World Championship record

Highest Scoring Matches
235 points (BRA v JPN in 1-4 semifinals) 3-2 (22-25, 33-35, 25-22, 25-22, 15-11) played on November 13 in Tokyo and (CZE v ITA in 1st Round) 3-2 (25-27, 27-29, 25-23, 25-22, 17-15) played on November 2 in Hamamatsu

Overall Review

FIVB VOLLEYBALL WOMEN'S WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP JAPAN 2010 Final Report

FIVB

Despite having never won the tournament, Brazil came into the 2010 FIVB Women's World Championship as hot favourites to take the title. In recent years the side had dominated almost every competition they had been in, winning four FIVB World Grand Prix's in the last six years as well as victory at the 2009 FIVB World Grand Champions Cup and at the 2008 Beijing Olympic Games.

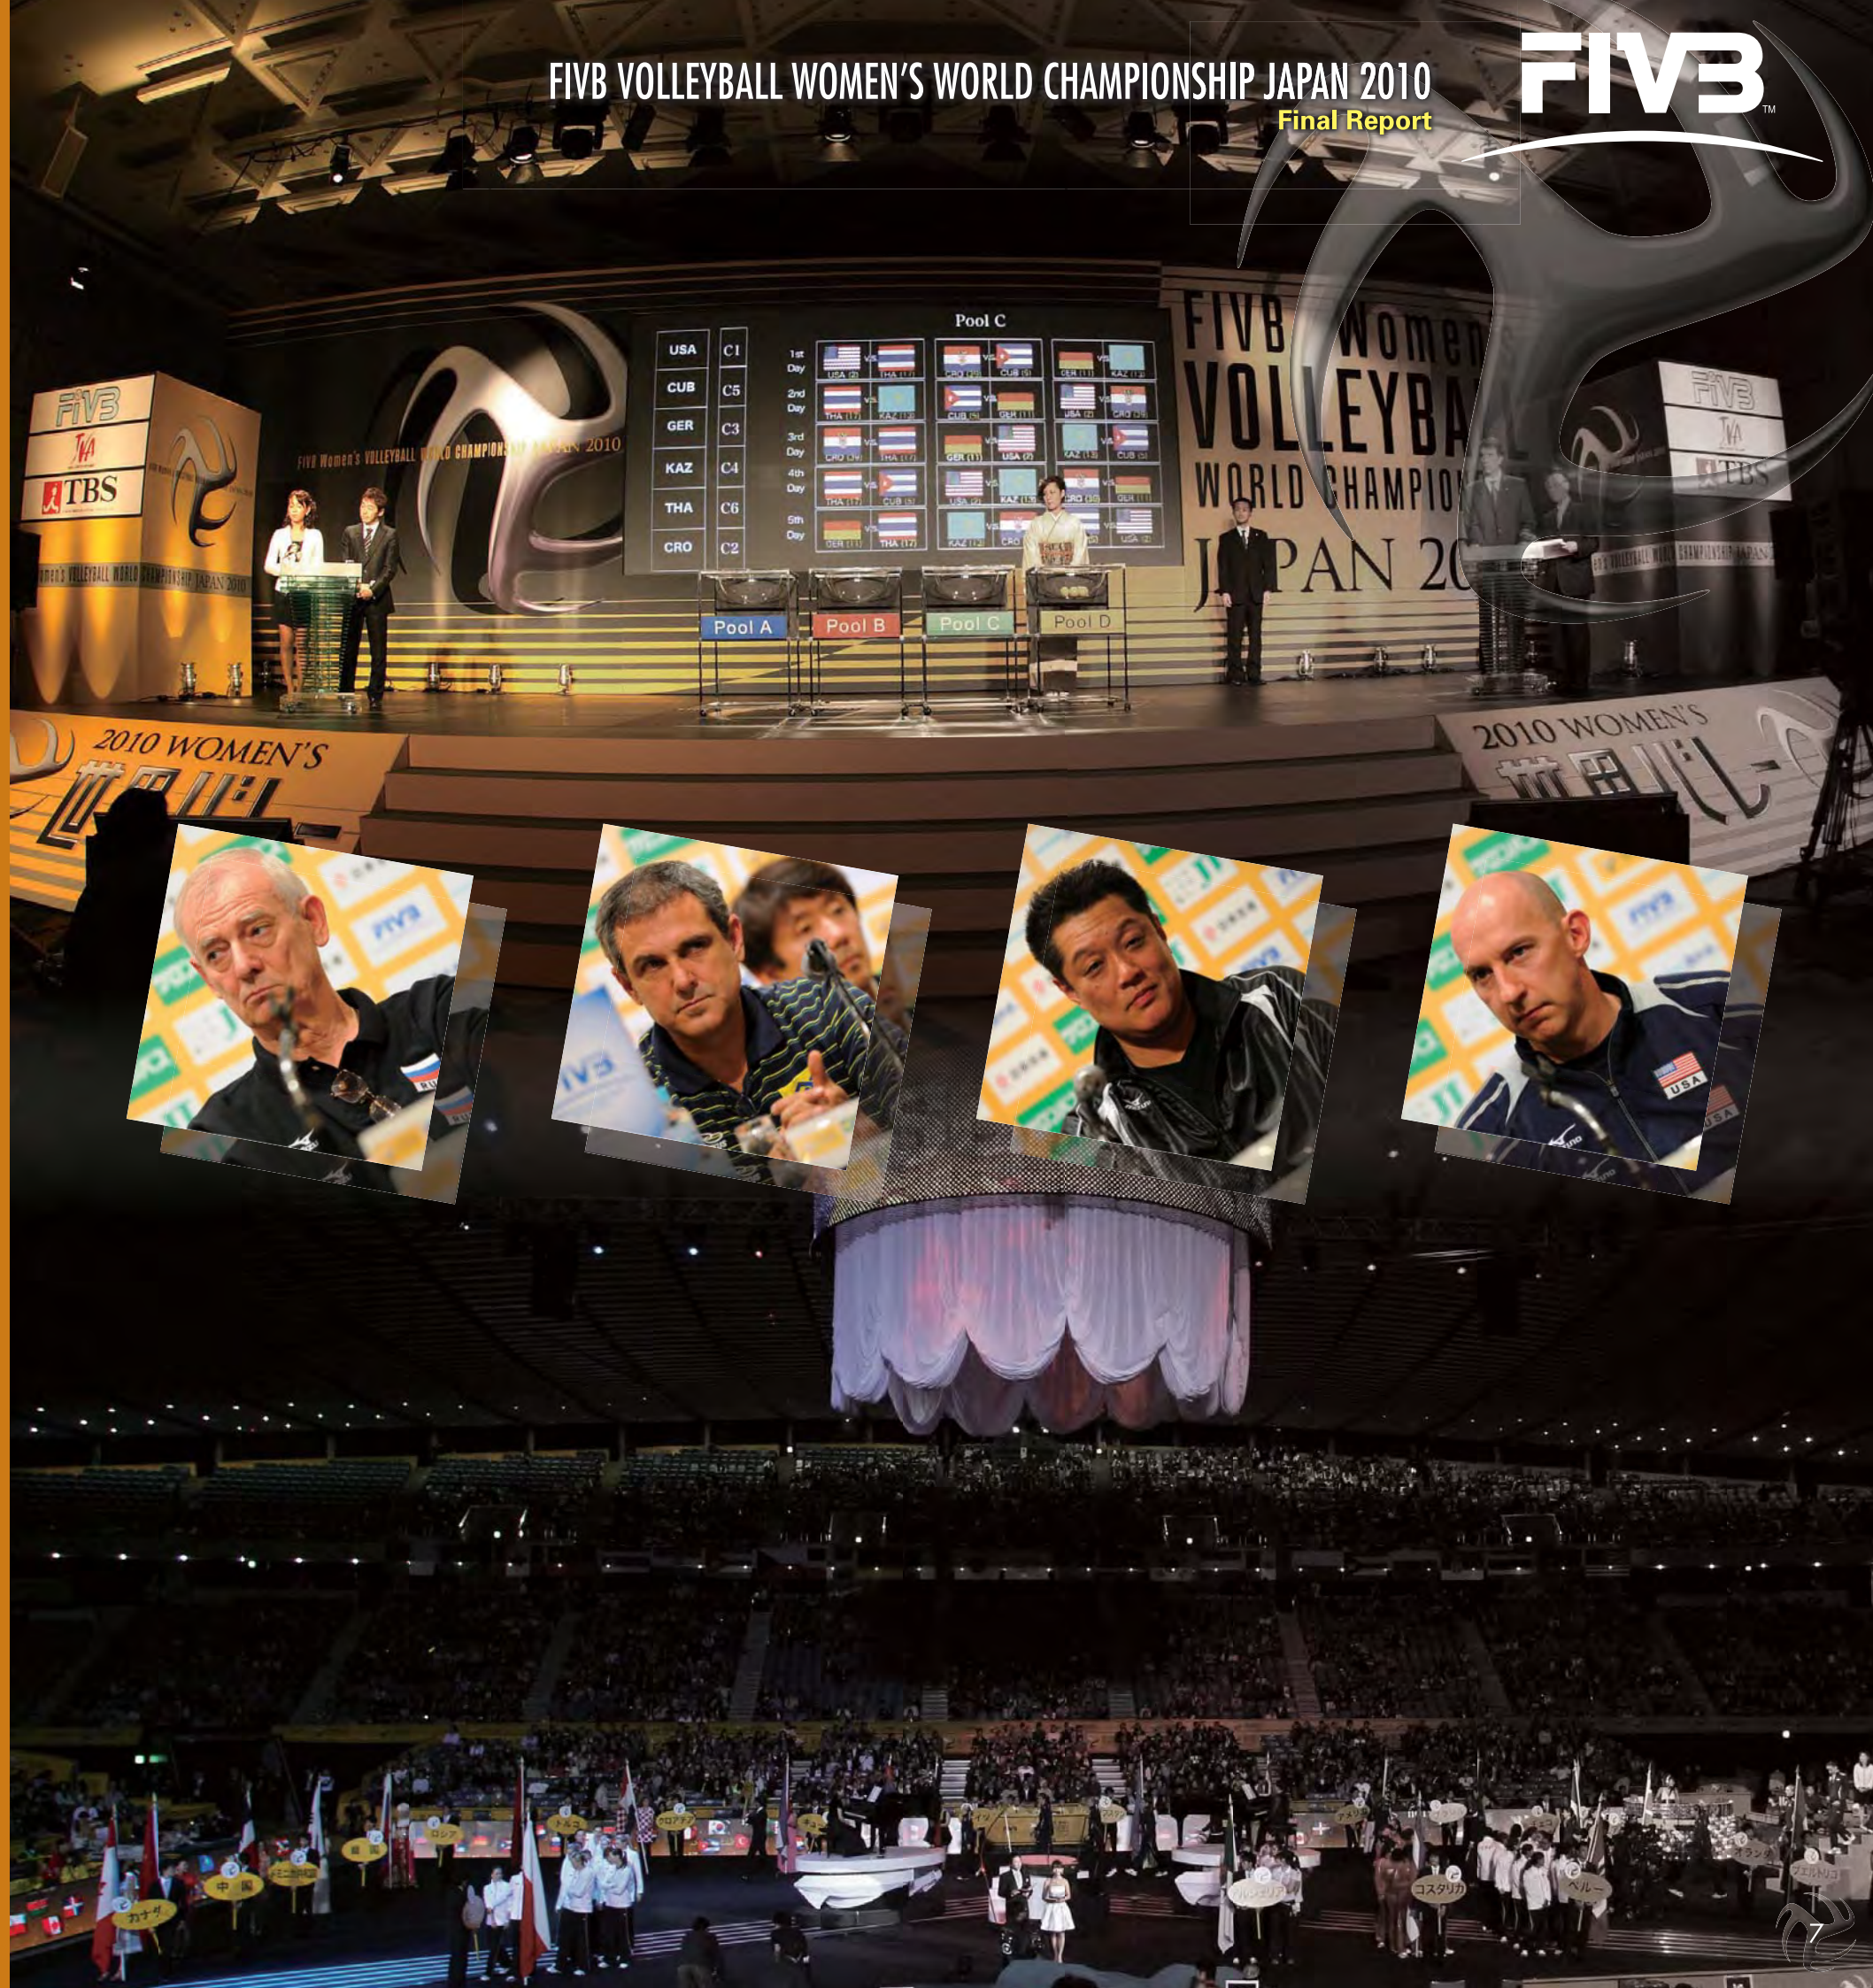

However just a few months prior to the tournament beginning, USA had clinched their third FIVB World Grand Prix title, throwing doubt into whether Brazil had the ability to take top spot. Additionally, with powerhouses Russia coming into the tournament without the added stress of any competitions prior to the World Championships, the field seemed to be wide open.

There were also high hopes for Japan after two impressive victories against Brazil and Italy at the 2010 World Grand Prix Final Round, and the home side had the support of the whole country behind them. Furthermore, with Italy finding a recent run of form, winning bronze at the 2010 FIVB World Grand Prix, they came to the competition with confidence with a loyal fan-base travelling to Asia to cheer them on.

Hosts Japan electrified the home supporters at Yoyogi Stadium as they opened their FIVB Women's World Championship campaign with a marathon five-set comeback win against Poland. Japan's stunning victory avenged their defeat by the Poles at the 2010 FIVB World Grand Prix Final Round and was a repeat of a similarly dramatic five-set victory over the eastern European team at Beijing 2008. Peru had earlier started the tournament on the front foot with a convincing straight-sets victory over world No.14 Algeria in the section's opening match. Bronze medallists four years earlier, Serbia kicked off their campaign by beating Costa Rica in straight sets.

Italy and Olympic champions Brazil advanced to the second round as each made it three wins out of three. The Italians comfortably beat fans' favourites Kenya while an inspired Brazil outclassed the Netherlands for the 17th time in 18 matches, winning a surprisingly one-sided match 3-0. Both the Brazilians and Dutch had played five-set thrillers the day before but the South Americans seemed much fresher, producing snappy attacks and better defensive coverage than in previous matches. The Dutch struggled for attacking momentum with even their ace spiker Manon Flier off target after a record-setting performance 24 hours earlier. The Czech Republic, meanwhile, defeated Puerto Rico in straight sets in the day's opening contest.

World No.5 Japan topped the pool after posting a 3-1 win in the decisive final match with Serbia. Leading the way for Japan was Saori Kimura who scored 27 points, many of them at key moments; captain Jelena Nikolic was Serbia's leading scorer with 25. Earlier, Peru booked the fourth and final second-round berth from Pool A by downing Costa Rica 3-1 in a match remarkable for the third-set score of 34-32 in the Costa Ricans' favour – equalling the record for the highest set score in the Women's World Championship. Both sides had begun with 1-3 win-loss records, meaning it was win or bust and Peru it was who prevailed with Patricia Soto and Jessenia Uceda scoring 18 points each and captain Leyla Chihuan 16, to render futile Verania Willis's 24-point haul for Costa Rica. Poland, meanwhile, continued their impressive recovery after two opening defeats by notching a third consecutive victory against Algeria.

As the FIVB Women's World Championship 2010 drew to a close in Japan, Russia celebrated as they clinched their seventh title, reaffirming their place at the top of the sport. Although Brazil came in as favourites and left with a silver medal, they were obviously devastated that they will have to wait another four years before attempting to win their first World Championship.

Russia's Ekaterina Gamova was clearly the star of the tournament, ever-present in a Russian side that could not be contained on the court she was a crucial ingredient for the champions.

However, despite the usually array of top players being on display, a number of other stars shone brightly. Turkey recorded their best ever finish at the tournament as they came sixth, and much of this was thanks to top scorer Neslihan Darnel. With 213 spikes, 19 blocks and 19 serves she repeated her 2006 Women's World Championship heroics, finishing 11 points ahead of the next best scorer, Saori Kimura of Japan, with 253 points, a sterling effort and definitely a player to continue to keep an eye on.

The hosts also lived up to many expectations by claiming the bronze with a stirring win over 2010 FIVB World Grand Prix champions USA. The medal was the first for the country at the World Championships since their silver medal in 1978 and gave the Asian nation even more reason to celebrate a hugely successful tournament.
